Conditional approval

After you let us know your income and assets, we'll pull a credit report, then provide a pre-qualification letter usually the same day.

After you provide proof of income and assets, we'll pull a credit report, then provide a pre-approval letter stating your eligibility for a loan up to a specified amount usually the same day.

Conditional approval goes a little deeper than a standard pre-approval because it goes through underwriting which means all the documentation is thoroughly reviewed and approved in underwriting. This is also known as pre-approval with underwriting.
